Grear, Bythwood contest closes

Polls open 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Who will represent residents in Belle Glade's west borough?

That question will be decided by the municipal election Tuesday, September 13. Polls open at the fire station at 525 SW Second Street at 7 a.m. They will close at 7 p.m.

Only one of the three commissioners whose terms expire this year drew any opposition in his re-election bid.

Commissioner William A. Grear will face challenger Daniel S. Bythwood for the west borough commission seat.

The east borough commissioner, George Goforth, Jr., was returned to his seat after he failed to draw any opposition. This will be his second term.

North borough commissioner Claude A. Tindall also gained another term, his fourth, after no opponents stepped forward to face him.

Grear said he's seeking re-election because he enjoys the work and watching the city progress.

"I enjoy working with the people. I enjoy working with the members of the commission and I just love to see the city working so lovely and so perfectly," said Grear.

He points to the new water plant the city is building and proposed sewage improvements on Main Street as items he wants to see completed in the next few months.

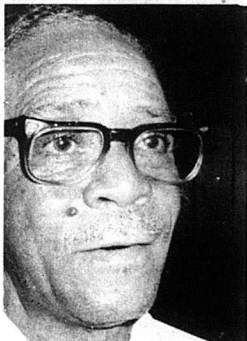

He said the proposed water and sewer revenue bond refinancing could save the city "many, many dollars which we can put elsewhere."

He proposed that some of the saved revenues be reverted to additional sewage connections and also said the city should become more active in repairing roads and streets.

Grear said the city should also look into taking the first steps in diversifying its economy by attempting to attract a boat factory since the area has waterways and outlets that are suitable for transporting the finished products.

Grear is running on his record as a five-term city commissioner, claiming his biggest asset over his opponent as "my experience, my dedication and my love for the citizens of Belle Glade and my proven ability to get the job done."

South Bay holds line on millage rate for 1984

SOUTH BAY - South Bay's millage rate will remain the same as last year and, if the response of those attending the millage hearing Tuesday evening, September 6, is any indication, no one really objects.

The hearing was started and concluded in about five minutes time. City Clerk Virginia Walker told the commissioners in attendance and the audience that the city's rollback rate was 6.669, or $6.67 per $1,000 in assessed property value.

She said the rollback rate was considered too high and said the commission had decided to stick with last year's actual rate of 5.459 or $5.46 per $1,000 in assessed property value.

The rollback rate is designed to raise the same amount of money as the previous year's rate. Because of an increase in the number of exemptions to the property tax, that rate will usually rise.

The city commissioners decided to stick with the same millage rate as the previous fiscal year despite an increase in exemptions. The millage rate is expected to rise about $174,908 in fiscal year 1983-1984, according to Walker.

Nobody in the audience spoke against or for the millage rate and the city commission closed the hearing and adopted the rate.

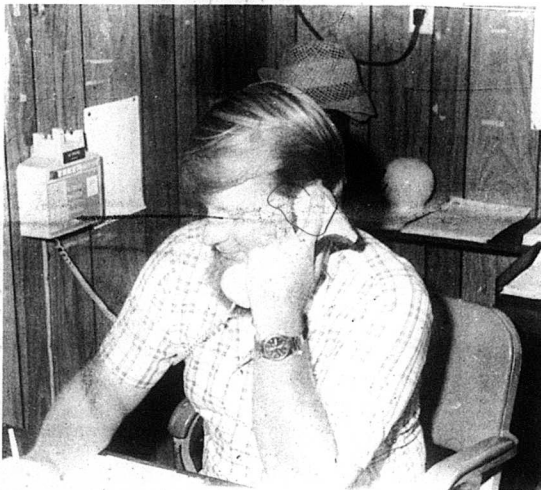

The city hasn't adopted a budget yet, although it scheduled a workshop for tonight.

In other business, the city commission decided to purchase $17,000 in computer software equipment from National Cash Register.

The software will be compatible with a computer system donated to the city by South Bay Growers.

The contract the city commission approved also provides funds for training sessions for operators of the system.

The training sessions will run $78 per hour. A representative from NCR said most training programs take between 100 and 120 hours.

Kiwanis and Cuban-American Club members at Doug Lockhart Ford in Belle Glade. The Cuban-American Club assisted local fundraising efforts with volunteers and a benefit barbecue.

Robbers hit station

BELLE GLADE - Belle Glade Police at press time were investigating an armed robbery at a city service station office that occurred early Wednesday morning.

According to Detective Jack R. Fulewider, two hispanic males apparently approached the offices of Nana's Service Station located at 457 SE Fourth Street and Avenue E at about 7:30 a.m. Once inside, they produced a revolver and bound two employees. They then took watches and an undisclosed amount of cash which represented the company's receipts.

The two employees removed the bindings in time to witness the robbers' escape in a green Ford believed to be a Galaxy.

No other details were available at press time.

SWA station or city may house plant

BELLE GLADE - A septage treatment plant may be located at Belle Glade's sewage treatment plant or at the Solid Waste Authority's transfer station just outside the city if negotiations between the governmental agencies and a private firm are successful.

Most of the septage in the Glades comes from the portable toilets placed at agricultural fields, according to Sam E. Henderson who operates one of the vendors that services the portable toilets.

Most of the sites permitted to handle septage by regulating agencies are closing and won't be able to receive the chemically treated waste. Municipalities have refused to allow the dumping of septage into their sewage systems.

"We've got to help these people get rid of this septic waste," said Belle Glade City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang. "It and chemical waste is a real problem. We don't want it in our plant and I know you (South Bay City Manager Lomax Harrelle) don't want it in yours."

"Absolutely," responded Harrelle. The president of E.P.A. Treatment Facilities, Inc., Gary V. Hammond, told the group of city officials and Henderson that it could handle the problem by building a treatment site locally if it could lease some land from the city or authority.

He said the company would need about a quarter of an acre to place the treatment and dumping facility on.

Strang suggested the city may be able to lease a corner of the sewage plant land to the company if terms couldn't be reached with the waste authority.

Hammond said if access roads were already provided, a plot measuring 50 feet by 50 feet would be all that's necessary to place the treatment plant on.

The plant would break the sludge down so the company could then load it on tanks and haul it to sod fields east of 20 Mile Bend.

The only other alternative would be for local vendors to haul its sludge to a site on the

Licensing statutes to be checked by Gann

By JEFF BROWN

SOUTH BAY - South Bay city attorney James Gann is expected to know soon whether three local building contractors can be permitted to practice their trade in the city despite statutes passed to the contrary.

The contractors, Simon Mosely, Pervis Benjamin and Tim Rumph, have been practicing in the city for a total of 55 years according to their attorney, Dorothy Walker.

This year, when they went to renew their city occupational license, they were told that they wouldn't be allowed to build in the city unless they held a county or state license.

City Manager Max Harrelle told the city commission, Walker and the contractors Tuesday night, September 6 that that was because the city had hired Palm Beach County as its building inspector and the county inspector won't inspect anything unless it complies with county or state codes.

That includes the use of state or county licensed contractors, said Harrelle, who added that he was just passing the word from county officials.

Harrelle said the commission could hire someone else to inspect its buildings if it was dissatisfied with the arrangement.

Vice Mayor Vernita Cox, who served as mayor in Mayor Donald E. Tanner's absence, said she had talked with state authorities and was under the impression that the city couldn't allow contractors who weren't licensed by the state to build in city no matter who inspected.

"I don't think we ever had teh privilege to say who could build in the city of South Bay," said Cox. She said she had discussed the three contractors with the state officials and they had told her they didn't understand how the three could have been permitted to build in the city so long without the state preventing it. Harrelle said one of the contractors, Rumph, had operated under Florida Builders, a licensed contractors.

Walker suggested the city find out if the contractors could be "grandfathered" in under the statute's requiring state licensing, since it was passed after the three began work in the city.

She said all three had been "grandfathered" in Belle Glade and Pahokee.

Gann was asked to check with the state and county and he said he would also check with Belle Glade and Pahokee to determine if special actions had to be taken to permit the contractors to ply their trades in those cities.

He said part of the problem may be that the occupational licenses issued by South Bay to professionals including contractors had been misinterpreted as being contractors' licenses.

3 killed in holiday weekend crashes

BELLE GLADE - Three people died on local roads during the holiday weekend and several others were injured as a result of automobile accidents, according to local police.

A 21-year-old man is believed to have become the first victim in the Glades when he died in a fiery crash on state road 15 about five miles north of Belle Glade.

According to Florida

Highway Patrol reports, the victim, tentatively identified as Jerry T. Burroughs of 1475 Bacon Point Road in Pahokee, was traveling north at about 1:30 a.m., Friday, September 2, when his pick-up left the northbound lane and struck a concrete bridge where it caught fire. Two other individuals were killed and two injured later that morning when two automobiles collided on U.S. 27 eight miles south of South Bay. Margaret T. Sharon, 62, of Utica, New York and James M. Stoies, 79, of Brooksville, Florida, were both killed when the vehicle they were traveling north in ran off the shoulder and traveled for 186 feet. When Sharon brought the vehicle back on the road, it crossed the center line and struck a southbound vehicle in the right side. That vehicle was driven by Betty C. Leavine of Sebring.

Florida. She and a passenger, Albert Schramm, 69, also of Sebring, were injured in the accident. That accident occurred at about 11:55 a.m. An accident in Belle Glade at about 3:25 a.m. that same day left two local women injured.

Police warn of check forgeries

BELLE GLADE - Local merchants should be wary of cashing checks drawn on a Greensacres cycle engineering firm, according to Belle Glade Police.

Detective Jack R. Fulenwider said several of the checks have been cashed in the area and an arrest was made when a local merchant, who had already been stung once by one of the checks, called police to the scene when a man allegedly attempted to cash one of the forged documents.

Willie Lee Johnson,

32, was arrested at about 3:20 p.m. September 1 when he supposedly tried to cash a $235.20 at Western Auto True Value Hardware at 141 South Main Street.

The manager of the store had apparently cashed a similar check previously and it had bounced. He called the police, who arrested Johnson for uttering a forgery and grand theft.

The check was made payable to R.B. Weston and Johnson had supposedly endorsed it as Robert B. Weston of 392 SW Avenue E in Belle Glade. He also is alleged to have used a social security card in the name of Robert Bollen Weston for identification. Police say the alias and address are false. The check was supposed to have been drawn on an account held by Advanced Cycle Engineering located at 5000 Lake Worth Road in Greensacres, Florida. Police said a spokesman from that firm told them the individual who signed the check didn't work for them and that the checking account doesn't exist.

The account was drawn on an account at First Marine Bank and Trust Company of the Palm Beaches in Lake Worth.

Police say the account doesn't exist. According to police, Johnson told police he was given the check by another person and directed to cash it at the store.

"Merchants should beware of anyone trying to cash checks from Advanced Cycle Engineering in Greensacres, Florida because several of the checks have shown up in the area," said Fulenwider.

Strong armed robbery charged

BELLE GLADE - A August 11 and August 23 robberies of Monroe Johnson, 73, of 541 SW Avenue B Place number 23 in Belle Glade. According to police reports, Miller allegedly entered Johnson's apartment August 11 and pinned him to his bed.

When Johnson yelled for help, Miller supposedly told him "Stop hollering or I'll shoot you." He then allegedly stole $17.50 from Johnson.

Johnson reported a second robbery 12 days later. He told police he was standing at his refrigerator when some entered his apartment and grabbed him from behind. The individual stole $10 from him.

Part of that attack was witnessed by another person who helped locate and identify the suspect eight days later.

The witness apparently saw the suspect in the area of the loading ramp at about 1:55 a.m. Monday, September 5. He notified police and kept Miller under surveillance until Officer Fernando Sainz arrived and apprehended Miller.

Sainz was backed up by Officer L.D. Grieve.

Over $2,000 raised for MDA

BELLE GLADE - Local fund-raising efforts have raised over $2,000 this year for the Muscular Dystrophy Association during the national telephone which aired from Sunday evening to Monday evening.

According to Robert W. Hendrix, Jr., the Kiwanis Club of the Glades and Cuban-American Club volunteers who manned the local telephones at Doug Lockhart Ford on Northwest Avenue L over the weekend received $2,267 in pledges to the charity.

Hendrix said he expects the club received another $150 in "fishbowl contributions." The Glades Central High School Marching Band is responsible for about $75 of that, he said.

The band marched through various parts of the city and played as part of its efforts to solicit donations.

Local volunteers from the Cuban-American Club man the phones

International prison ministry featured

The Community Methodist Church will show a motion picture release of International Prison Ministry entitled, "Changed Lives in San Quentin," Sunday, Sept. 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Actually filmed inside the prison, this documentary features the stories of four notorious criminals. Interviews conducted by Art Linkletter and the director of IPM, Chaplain Ray, focus on rehabilitation as a result of conversion to Christianity.

From inside the gas chamber Jerry Graham says, "I came very close to ending it all right here." In stark contrast to his life of crime, he now directs a ranch of abused children. James Williams served time in San Quentin after a gun battle with police. Now he's employed by a criminal justice organization teaching men "the way to go out," as he puts it.

Another changed life is George Meyer, Al Capone's favorite driver. Now 74, he counsels teenagers about the evils of drug abuse. And Jack Burbridge, once an enforcer for organized crime, is now a preacher. The film concludes with a look inside the gas chamber. The film is free and open to the public. The church is located at 401 SW 1st St., Belle Glade.

Parade of auditors starts in SB

SOUTH BAY - What is expected to be a parade of several auditors displaying their wares to the city commission has begun in South Bay.

The accounting firm of Nowlen, Stewart, Tedamson and Holt sent Edward Holt to the South Bay city commission meeting Tuesday, September 6 to make its case. That firm has handled South Bay's audit for the past four years.

The city commission has decided to schedule interviews with the other two firms which had expressed an interest in handling South Bay's audit and also asked City Clerk Virginia Walker to send letters soliciting proposals from several other firms.

Holt pointed out that his firm has an office in Belle Glade and also handles the audits for Belle Glade and Pahokee. He said the firm audits nine municipalities in the county. Several fire taxing districts and Palm Beach County are also audited by the firm.

"We just question whether it makes sense to go to West Palm Beach to buy your resources when you have the resources here in local people," said Holt. "I hope that if you change you would do so for some good reason. Not change because it is fashionable."

Holt also said he feels the firm made a substantial impact on the city financially almost as soon as it came on board and that the firm is now familiar with the city's operation, an advantage any new firm wouldn't have.

Commissioner Willie Marshall said he is interested in having someone come in and explain the audit to him since he isn't familiar with all the terms used in it.

"We would come in at any request from a councilman," said Holt. "We naturally would not be so presumptuous to come in without that request."

The firm would also be willing to send representatives to a budget workshop, he said.

Salter completes OSUT

Army National Guard Pvt. Clifford Salter Jr., son of Emma and Clifford Salter of 699 SW Sixth St., completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the US Army Infantry School in Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training. The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman. Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

DOT arrogance could result in fatalities

If South Bay city officials are correct, a turning lane is needed in the northbound lane of US 27 (state road 25) at a couple of places north of the railroad track intersection, and the Florida Department of Transportation has decided not to do anything about it.

The lanes are needed, say city officials, because school buses are forced to make turns at the breaks in the medians in order to enter neighborhoods on the west side of the highway.

The road is always busy and it gets busier during the agricultural season, city commissioners pointed out at a recent city commission meeting.

The traffic, traveling at a high rate of speed, increases the chance of a slowing or braking school bus getting hit from the rear. If the vehicle is large enough, say as big as a tractor trailer or cane truck, passengers in a school bus could be injured seriously.

DOT has seen fit to put turning lanes there yet, despite apparent pleas from the city of South Bay.

City Attorney James Gann said he has dealt with DOT in similar requests regarding the construction of turn lanes on state road 80 when it was four-laned between South Bay and Belle Glade.

He said the attitude of department officials then seemed to be "We'll put what we want, where we want them."

The public be damned. Well boys and girls at DOT, the public you so arrogantly snub your noses at, if these accounts are true, pays your salaries to make sure we are provided with a safe and well maintained transportation system.

It appears to us that you don't take your responsibility to seriously. Commissioner Vernita Cox suggested some DOT representatives be invited up from Fort Lauderdale to see for themselves what the situation is. Fat chance. They probably don't want to risk the drive over any of the roads leading into the area.

Poorly maintained and dangerous highways like state roads 80, 25, 15 and US 98 have become unacceptable facts of life to the adults living in the Glades area.

But we aren't talking about just adults here. You see, DOT representatives and bureaucrats, school buses carry school children.

If an accident should occur involving a school bus at one of these medians, breaks, and any of the bus's passengers are injured or even killed, chances are that injury or death will be suffered by a child or children.

Add to DOT officials' already crimson-stained hands not just the blood of innocent victims of bureaucratic arrogance, but the blood of innocent children.

We hope that attorney Gann was wrong when he said DOT officials don't really want to worry about preventing an accident at any one spot until after several have occurred there.

That's a cruel way to determine a need.

Don't forget to vote

Belle Glade's municipal election, the first in two years, is this Tuesday, September 13, and we hope city residents decide to take advantage of their voting rights.

The candidates for the west borough commission seat are working now for votes. They have made an effort to inform residents of their points of view and their stands on issues facing the city.

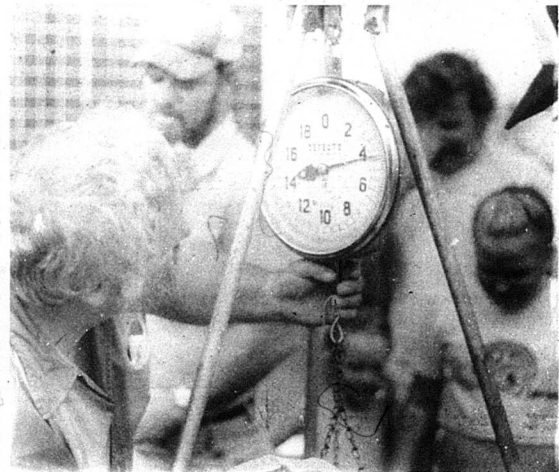

No matter how you feel about the way the city is operated, you should vote. Satisfaction and dissatisfaction are no excuses for apathy.

If you're satisfied that the city is operating smoothly and efficiently, you shouldn't stay away from the polls because that only gives the dissenters the advantage.

If you aren't pleased with the city's operation, a decision not to vote indicates a lack of commitment to see things changed or to help change them.

We hope Belle Glade residents will become Belle Glade voters in this election.

Make a choice and cast your ballot. It's your right and your duty.

A dog's life

When you are out digging about in your backyard you never know what you might find. For instance, my wife and I were planting a few trees about dark Saturday when a pair of big German shepherds dragging two humans happened by.

Turned out it was Stan and Diana Martin who were getting exercised by the dogs.

Both dogs are just about big enough to saddle up and ride, but the similarity ends there. One is 15 and the other is allegedly just a puppy. The puppy has the potential of knocking down full-grown linebackers with a gentle swipe of its paw.

We are always glad to see Stan and Diana and we invited them in, if not the dogs.

We figured there would be trouble with the frisky young one. So Diana tied her to the biggest tree in our yard and then checked periodically to see if she had uprooted it.

It turned out to be a pleasant enough evening. We listened to a few old records and I even got them to sit still long enough to suffer through several hundred color slides (there is nothing like watching someone else's color slides or home movies).

Stan made just one veiled threat during the evening: he has a bunch of color slides he made of Europe while in the Army. I'm still waiting for the other shoe to drop.

All in all, the Martins accepted their fate like grownups and when 10 p.m. rolled around, Diana announced that she needed to go home to complete preparations on her Sunday school lesson.

The only problem was that the "puppy" was still there, and the old dog which should have known better had wandered off.

Enfeebled, hardly able to walk, and hard of hearing, the old dog had completely disappeared.

No amount of back-tracking or searching could reveal the whereabouts of the mysterious missing dog. Stan was concerned they might be mistaken for burglars as they made their late-night search. But the bond between dog and man should not be underestimated. The search went on.

If you think this is going to be a tear-jerker of a column save your tears. The Martins never did find their dog; it found them about 7:30 a.m. the next day.

From all appearances it was the Martins, rather than the dog, who was worried. Apparently the dog enjoyed its night on the town.

The moral of this story might be, as E. N. Westcott once remarked, "They say a reasonable number of fleas is good for a dog—keeps him from broodin' over bein' a dog."

A POMPANO BEACH MAN won $500 when he brought in a stringer weighing over 18 pounds in the draw tournament at Slim's Fish Camp in Belle Glade last weekend. His son took in the third place prize of $275 for his catch of 12 pounds, 10 ounces.

In search of a fix

What do men do better but women do faster? Fix things, of course, what else.

Now you take household repairs. Most men approach the smallest repair job with just as much forethought as NASA planning a space shot. First of all, only the absolutely, essentially correct tool can be used. Despite a vast array of assorted hand tools, power tools, and semi-automatics — scattered from the utility room to the carport — the precision instrument is never on hand. It must be ordered from a specialty shop in northern Wisconsin, which is only in production during months beginning with R.

Then there's the problem of a schematic. According to the average man, every assembled object in the home arrived with a detailed blueprint of its construction — including the kids, should they need repairing. He knows there is "one" because he left it on top of the refrigerator and someone, sometime within the last seven years, has moved it. When the missing document shows up in the trunk of the car under the spare tire he can only wonder why his wife put it there in the first place. If she'd only leave things where he knows where they are...

Then there's the nuts and bolts or screws and nails or magic glue, staples, (but never what have you?) that are to hold the repairs in place. A search through 26 paper sacks of nails and screws never turns up the right-size fastener. A woman should steer clear of getting involved in this treasure hunt or she'll ask such ridiculous questions as, "How come you have these handmade horseshoe nails? What do you use them for?"

"Handmade horses," is apt to be the snarled reply.

When the project calls for glue as the best

AILS AILSA DEWING

"And What Not"

pinner-downer, there's usually no shortage of plastic glue tubes and containers around the house. And everyone of them attests to the manufacturers' claims that a 300-pound karate blackbelt cannot put asunder what this glue bath joined together. Including the container and its lid, which SOMEBODY (and we all know who that is!) didn't clean the tip of before putting it away, upside down. The amalgamated containers are never discarded, however, because "one of these days" the glue around the lid can be softened up with a little alcohol, turpentine, or blood plasma, and made accessible again.

Needless to say, women don't have these hang-ups. Show a lady a loose tack and she'll show you the heel of her shoe and reset the offending protrusion in less time than it takes her husband to decide, since he can't find the tack hammer, whether a sledge, a claw, or a rubber fender mallet, is best suited for the job, or whether he should wait 'til Monday for the hardware store to open so he can buy another tack hammer. Anyway, that will give him time to find his bag of tacks (that one's rusty and bent, don't use it again) and the schematic, of course. Now where do you suppose that darned thing has gotten to?

PBJC-Glades enrollement drops

Enrollment at the four Palm Beach Junior College campuses has dropped slightly, but college officials aren't expressing concern.

The biggest drop in enrollment was 14 percent at the local campus in Belle Glade, while PBJC-Central suffered a 2.7 percent drop in enrollment. Gains of 8.2 percent at PBJC-North and 4.6 percent at PBJC-South helped much of the drop in enrollment and overall, the institution suffered a half percent decrease in enrollment this fall.

It was the first decrease in enrollment at PBJC since 1976.

There was a similar decrease in 1967. "We do not know why our usual pattern of annual increases changes from time to time," said Registrar Charles Graham.

Credit enrollment dropped from 11,923 last year to 11,855 this autumn. Overall enrollment, including non-credit student, was 13,461 last year. It stands at 12,788 this year.

"The non-credit enrollment changes every day, and continues throughout the term," Graham said.

"We will have an entirely different figure, and a much larger one, at the end of the term for total enrollment."

Graham added that he didn't think the small decrease this year represented a long term or significant change.

Service note

Spec. 4 Willie Allen, son of Barbara Owens of 97B Davis St., Belle Glade, has been decorated with the Army Achievement Medal at Fort Campbell, Ky.

The medal is awarded to soldiers for achievement or meritorious service and acts of courage.

Allen is a communications specialist with the 426th Supply and Services Battalion.

He is a 1979 graduate of Clewiston High School.

Continuing education workshops set

BELLE GLADE -- Registration is now open for the September workshops at the Glades campus of Palm Beach Junior College, according to Judy Schiele, director of continuing education.

Interested persons can sign up for courses between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday or between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Schiele said each person will need his social security number and money at the time of registration.

Courses offered include a blue-print reading workshop beginning September 12. It is a four week workshop and the fee is $12. The class is from 7 to 10 p.m.

For more information on other workshops available call Schiele at 996-3055 after 9:30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Crop science course offered

BELLE GLADE -- The University of Florida's Cooperative Extension Service will sponsor a 24-hour vegetable crop science course starting September 20.

The course is geared toward employees of vegetable farms and related agricultural industries.

According to a release, the objective of the six week course will be to increase employee knowledge of the steps involved in vegetable production.

Highlights will include a case study of the early bacterial blight of celery and discussions on typical corn insects and their control and fertilization by irrigation.

There will be eight instructors in the course. They are: Reuben Beverly of the Agricultural Research and Education Center, who will discuss soil management and vegetable production; Joe McCrory of the Clewiston Drainage District, who'll conduct a session on south Florida water management; Joe Orsenigo of the Florida Sugar Cane League who'll discuss plant physiology; Don Myers, also of the AREC, whose topic will be plant disease; Tom Carpenter of Agri-Tech Services who will discuss insect control; Joan Dusky of the AREC on weed science and Dalton Harrison of IFAS Agricultural Engineering on water management.

Don Scruggs of South Bay Growers will discuss harvesting, handling and marketing. The class will be conducted Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Glades campus of Palm Beach Junior College. The first class will be September 20 and the last October 27.

The fee for the course is $8 per person, plus an optional additional book fee. Those interested in taking the course should contact Ken Shuler at 996-1656, Chris Bowden at 996-1655 or Paula Gigliotti at 996-1657.

8-week coumputer course set

An eight-week course in computer programming using basic language will be offered at Pahokee High School Thursdays from 6 to 8 p.m. beginning Sept. 22.

Commands, statements, functions, and operations will be covered as well as learn to develop programs. Enrollment will be strictly limited to the first 10 people who register and pay the $20 class fee.

Registration will be taken at the Community School Office, Glades Central Community High School Annex, 501 NW Avenue H, Belle Glade. Telephone 996-4950.

Local team takes 44th place

BELLE GLADE -- A local amateur softball team is the 44th ranked team in the nation if the United States Slowpitch Softball Association national Association results are any indication.

Mace Sod traveled to the tournament in Petersburg, Virginia over the weekend and came back with a 1-2 record and a 44th place ranking in the 92-team tournament.

Mace lost its first game 14-15 to a team from Virginia. The opponents scored the winning run in the last inning.

It picked up its only win on the tournament, when it beat a Georgian team 15-0.

In the third game, the one that eliminated Mace Sod, a North Carolina team scored the winning run in the last inning to claim a 9-8 victory. Assistant Coach Mike Underwood said the two teams that defeated Mace Sod both went on to earn spots in the top 20.

Tennis day for kids planned in Pahokee

A Tennis For Kids class will be taught in Pahokee by Gary McEntire, a certified physical education instructor.

The eight-week class meets Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 20. It will be limited to 10 students only, between the ages of eight and 12.

To register, call the Community School Office at 996-4950.

Recycled aluminum at record level

BELLE GLADE -- With record or near-record prices being paid for recyclable aluminum, increasing numbers of school, club church and civic organizations are utilizing aluminum recycling as a fund raiser.

Local residents and organizations can receive cash for all-aluminum beverage cans and other clean aluminum items every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the city park, 500 West Canal St., and in Pahokee every Wednesday and Friday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the parking lot next to the Housing Authority, 465 Friend Terrace.

Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company pays the public 28 cents per pound for all-aluminum beverage cans and foil items. It also pays 25 cents per pound for miscellaneous and cast aluminum items.

Besides all-aluminum beverage cans, foil, pie plates, frozen food and dinner trays, dip, pudding and meat containers, Reynolds purchases other miscellaneous aluminum items such as siding, gutters, torn door and window frames and lawn furniture tubing. These items should be free of any nonaluminum materials, cut to lengths not exceeding three feet, bundled and not mixed with cans.

Aluminum castings include pots and pans, barbecue grills, lawn mower housing and some transmission housings.

Benefit brunch slated for organization

BELLE GLADE - Planned Parenthood supporters are sponsoring an Italian luncheon, Sept. 30, to benefit the non-profit family planning organization. Home-cooked foods such as lasagne, baked ziti and more will be served from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. at the Belle Glade civic center. Tickets for the luncheon are $4.75 (tax deductible).

"We are very pleased with the support of our volunteers at Planned Parenthood. By providing home-cooked food, they are helping to make this luncheon special as well as a successful fund-raiser for Planned Parenthood," said Katrina Warren, director of the Planned Parenthood Belle Glade Center. For reservations, call Planned Parenthood at 996-4223.

Jr.; four brothers, William F., Garry C., Rodger, Michael L. and Dean, all of Pahokee and his grandmother Mrs. W.M. Burroughs Sr., Crestview, Florida.

"We have problems like any other city, but we're dealing with them realistically and as fast as we can," said Grear, adding that increased costs have slowed the city's progress. "We aren't able to move as fast as we'd like to, but we are moving."

Bythwood said he wants to be a commissioner to help the city solve its problems, especially in the west borough.

"I've been here 30 years and I've seen the town grow. But I think there are a lot of things that have to be done that haven't been done. I think I could work with the city commission in solving those things," said Bythwood.

He pointed to roads and sidewalks as specific problem areas and said one of the biggest problems facing the city is housing.

"In order for people to stay here, you have to have better housing," he said, because better housing could assist efforts to diversify the economy by keeping individuals living in the area and working towards attracting and expanding the local economy.

"We know we are a farming area," said Bythwood. "I think we could put up a canning plant to keep the people from running up and down the road. We need some type of industry to keep people from running up and down the road. The whole city must unite and work together to build a cannery if that's what we want. We can do it."

He added that he feels many west borough residents are faced with "taxation without representation."

"I feel like in any town we need equalization. I don't think this commissioner (Grear) is speaking out on the people's needs and what the people of the west borough want," said Bythwood.

"I believe that I would be the type of commissioner that can represent the west borough. I would be the people's candidate in the west borough."

"My prime concern would be the west borough. I would work on any area or concern the commissioners wanted, but if we take a look at the west borough, I believe we can see several problems that can be solved if we work on them."

Grear, 59 owns B&E Rubber Stamps and Trophies in Belle Glade.

Bythwood, 54, is a human relations specialist with the Palm Beach County School Board superintendent's office and he also owns a local laundromat.

Camp to open in Hendry

By JIM JONES

It now seems certain that the Jack and Ruth Eckerd Foundation will soon be opening a youth wilderness camp in Hendry County.

M. D. Perry, exclusive real estate agent for Jack and Pat Knowles, Wednesday, Aug. 31, presented a contract for 270 acres to Daniel R. Schooler, executive director for the Eckerd Foundation.

The property is located about 20 miles south of Clewiston near County Road 846. It is estimated that the completed camp will cost approximately $1.2 million.

The first of the Eckerd youth wilderness camps was opened on 880 acres near Brooksville in 1968.

coast which is expected to close in the near future.

Strang said Solid Waste Authority's only objection was that it didn't want to have its employees collect any funds for the private firm.

Hammand said he thought a billing system or ticketing system could be developed to get around that problem.

He also said that since there are only three or four vendors in the area that would be using the facility, an honor system may be developed and each vendor would receive a key to the plant to allow them access to it late in the evening.

Henderson said often he has to empty units late at night and have them ready for use the next morning when harvesting crews come to the fields.

Belle Glade Public Works Director Frank Green asked if the units couldn't be emptied and kept in the truck tank until the plant opened the next morning.

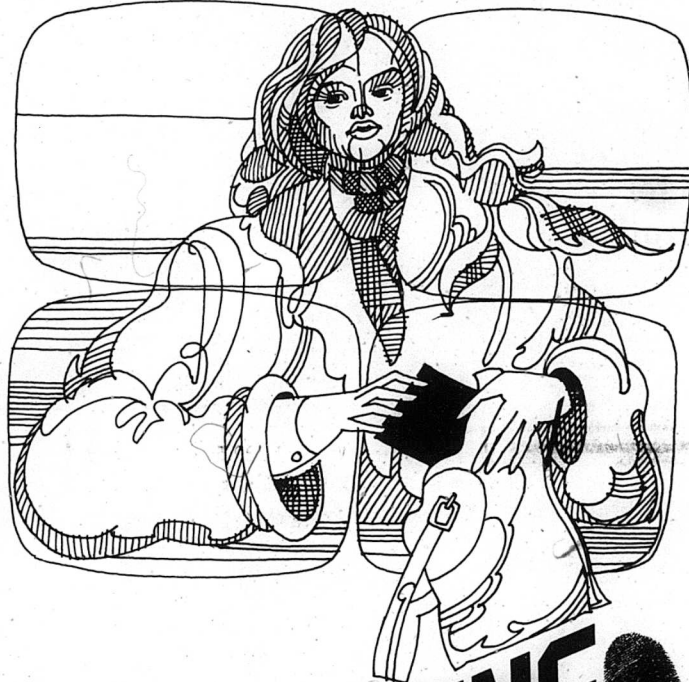

"Well, that would be okay except if you have 75 units to empty and you only can hold 14, you have to be able to get rid of it," said Henderson.

Hammand said that if he could get a commitment from the city or the authority soon on the use of land, he could have some type of unit ready for use by October 1.

He said at first it would be a temporary unit that would emit an ammonia odor, but added that the permanent plant would eliminate those odors with carbon filters.

He also said he wouldn't charge more than what is being charged by the authority for sewage disposal now.

Harrelle said vendors would probably be better off dealing with a private company than with a government agency because the authority would probably triple the rates.

SHOPLIFTING

makes you a criminal!

And criminals do get caught! Now the stores are wise to shoplifters, and have the manpower and sophisticated equipment to prove it. Closed circuit cameras, undercover people, specially treated tagging systems...are all used to successfully catch shoplifters. And the stores are taking legal actions! Shoplifters face even stiffer fines...even jail when they're caught...plus the humiliation of getting arrested, and a criminal record that could affect future schooling, jobs, credit rating, and the respect and trust of family and friends. Shoplifting...like any other crime...just doesn't pay!

H & R BLOCK TO OFFER TAX SCHOOL IN BELLE GLADE & CLEWISTON

Thousands of people are earning money in their spare time as income tax preparers.

H & R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service is offering a basic income tax course starting September with morning, afternoon, and evening classes available.

During the 14 week course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block personnel will teach current laws, theory and application as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom lecture on each subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging.

Anyone may enroll. There are no restrictions or qualifications. Courses are ideally suited for housewives, retired persons, teachers or persons wanting to increase their tax knowledge.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H & R Block.

The modest course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the school. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course.

Registration forms and brochures for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting this H & R Block office at 212 E. Sugarland Hwy., Clewiston, telephone 983-5377 and 116 S.W. Ave. B., Belle Glade, telephone 996-4282.

Camp

Christened "Camp-E-How-Kee," the new camp was based on the unique Wilderness Therapeutic Camping Program, begun in 1945 by Campbell Loughmiller with the support of the Salesmanship Club of Dallas.

In-depth studies and professional psychiatric evaluation of the program's graduates confirmed that the program was effectively improving children's lives.

Wilderness camps provide a residential, therapeutic program for children with emotional and is credited with helping many lead productive lives.

Like other Eckerd wilderness camps, the Hendry camp will have no more than 56 to 60 campers at any one time, none of whom are con-

Seminole Boosters Club forming here

The first organizational meeting of the Glades Area Seminole Boosters Club will be held 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 19, in the Sugar and Spice Room of the Clewiston Inn.

A film will be shown highlighting the FSU-Eastern Carolina football game. Also planned is a film on the FSU-LSU football game.

There will be a cash bar set up in the room. The public is invited to attend.

Camps are divided into groups of 10 children and two trained counselor-teachers who live with them. The groups must construct their own shelter, cut their wood, repair their equipment, arrange their own recreation, maintain trails, and do all the things necessary for safe and responsible living.

These activities provide objective discipline and play a major part in developing a sense of social responsibility.

The peer group becomes the primary focus of setting standards, solving problems, and determining group activities.
